SUMMARY REPORT

ADC-2001:MANAGEMENT OF MEDICALLY COMPROMISED PATIENTS

Many dental procedures induce stress to the patients which may alter the physiologic balance in them especially medically compromised patients. Also, in invasive dental procedures that involve implants, extractions or jaw surgeries need a proper dental as well medical management. It is the duty of dentist to have the knowledge of such conditions so that he or she can manage those patients in his or her dental operatory and should be able to handle any emergencies. Resource person: Dr. C H .Anuradha is the key note speaker for many National and International Conferences. She has many years of teaching experience and numerous publications to her credit. The programme aims at students to have thorough knowledge about medical conditions, to understand the effect of dental treatment on medically compromised patients, to learn effective management of medically compromised patients and to be able to modify treatment protocols accordingly.
