SUMMARY REPORT

ADC-1801 : COMPOSITES IN DENTISTRY

Composites in Dentistry is the course conducted for III year BDS students to educate them about the trends in the field of aesthetic dentistry by the Department of Endodontics. Composite dental restorations are a variety of biomaterials available in today's dentistry. One of the most commonly used restorative materials in dentistry. These materials have limitations like shrinkage and polymerization-induced shrinkage stress, limited toughness, the presence of un-reacted monomer that remains following the polymerization, and several other factors. There has been great amount of research in recent years in composites with the goal of improving restoration durability by altering the initiation system, monomers, fillers, their coupling agents, and by developing novel polymerization strategies. Hence, a good understanding of material characteristics can help us in its better use. The resource person, Dr.Swati working presently as Reader in the Department of Endodontics as upgraded her knowledge and skills in the field of Aesthetic Dentistry. She has completed her graduation from Sri Sai Dental College; Vikarabad in the year 2007 and post graduation from Mamta Dental College in 2012. She started her career as a teaching staff in SVS Dental College and is continuing to teach in the field of dentistry. She has received an exclusive training in the Direct and Indirect fabrication of composite restorations. The program aims to obtain an understanding of material science, to gain knowledge about dental materials, to understand the applications of dental materials in various situations and to understand the pros and cons of the composite materials. Student is expected to gain knowledge about various dental materials and their material sciences. To understand the applications of these dental materials to the best of their advantages.
