SUMMARY REPORT

ADC-1803: PHOTOGRAPHY – A DIAGNOSTIC AID

Photography – A Diagnostic Aid conducted by the Department of Orthodontics for students of II year BDS. Photography is used as an effective mode of communication to patients and also aids in diagnosis. A greater understanding of the case can be obtained when there is a correlation between the hard and soft tissue findings. Various types of x-rays can give us details of hard tissue whereas photographs aids in understanding of soft tissue conditions. They further help us in estimating the progress of the treatment and documentation. Hence, photography serves as a powerful tool in field of dentistry. One has to acquire the skill to utilize this potential tool to maximum benefit. Resource person: Dr.S.N.Reddy is renowned person in the field of Orthodontics. Speaker has numerous national and international publications to his credit. His interest towards the field keeps him motivated. He was chosen as the speaker for this topic as he has trained himself in photographic skills at various levels and this would help students to enrich their knowledge further. The student is expected to learn about the facial anatomy and any variations related to it, gain the knowledge about photography skills and to develop the photography skills for its practical applications in the field of dentistry.
