

CURRICULUM ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE

Roles

The CEC's primary objective is to explore and recommend innovative ways to enhance the student learning experience beyond the core curriculum. They aim to equip graduates with the skills, knowledge, and experiences to thrive in the evolving field of dentistry.

Responsibilities

- Identifying Enrichment Opportunities: Explore and identify innovative teaching methods, technologies, and learning resources that can enhance the curriculum. This might involve researching new simulation technologies, virtual reality applications in dental education, or interdisciplinary learning opportunities with other healthcare programs.
- Developing Enrichment Programs: Propose and develop enrichment programs that complement and extend the core curriculum. This could involve student research opportunities, workshops on emerging dental technologies, or guest lectures from industry experts.
- Promoting Professional Development: Recommend and support faculty development programs that foster the integration of innovative teaching methods and technologies into the curriculum. This might involve workshops on simulation-based learning, flipped classroom techniques, or effective use of educational technology tools.
- Student Engagement: Develop strategies to increase student participation and engagement in enrichment opportunities. This might involve offering incentives for participation, making programs accessible and relevant to student interests, or incorporating student feedback into program design.
- Evaluation and Assessment: Evaluate the effectiveness of enrichment programs in enhancing student learning outcomes. This might involve collecting student feedback,
- analyzing program data, and measuring the impact on student skill development and clinical preparedness.
